

JACINTA SHERRIS
jacintasherris@gmail.com · (201) 360-1287

WORK EXPERIENCE

DUCKERFRONTIER

February 2019– Present

Junior Analyst – New York, New York/ London, United Kingdom

- Conducted B2B industry and economic research to consolidate and relate onto internal and client-orientated information platforms
- Wrote well researched white papers, reports, and articles to promote business development
- Collaborated with international research and marketing teams to produce engaging and informative content

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY

May 2018 – August 2018

Economics Undergraduate Researcher – New York, New York

- Conducted original research investigating the influences of emotional intelligence on financial and economic decision making
- Collaborated with PhD candidates to design tests, then analyzed data utilizing platforms such as Qualtrics and R Studio
- Received $1000 in grant funding from New York University
- Presented original research and results at the 2018 NYU Diversity Student Summer Research Conference
- Received the opportunity to further develop research in order to prepare for submission to an academic publication

MERRIL LYNCH INC.

September 2017- December 2017

Global Wealth & Investment Management Intern - New York, New York

- Conducted research in order to identify prospective clients
- Consolidated and reviewed research reports from Merrill Lynch, JP Morgan, along with other sources
- Created charts and models to reflect client portfolio performance, economic data, and financial trends
- Updated and maintained client databases to further business development and strong client relations

ENTERPRISE LITHUANIA

June 2016 – August 2016

Economics Intern - Vilnius, Lithuania

- Conducted research on Northern European economic trends and growing industries to emphasize investment opportunities
- Identified 17 critical components of running a successful startup, consolidated the components into an informative article targeted towards Northern European and international entrepreneurs
- Researched, wrote, and published 5 online articles promoting Lithuania's international Life Science Baltic conference
- Communicated with innovators, entrepreneurs, and professors at Vilnius University by conducting various interviews on Lithuania's life science industry

EDUCATION

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY, College of Arts and Sciences

Cumulative GPA: 3.4

Bachelor of Arts in Economics 2018

EXTRACURRICULARS

NYU ECONOMICS REVIEW

September 2017- December 2018

Writer - New York, New York

- Researched economic trends, ideas, and concepts to initiate relevant and interesting research theses
- Produced articles concerning various economic, financial, and political topics for distribution
- Previous topics included stock market volatility and economic growth, foreign securities, investing in fine art, as well as American labor markets

SKILLS

Technical: Microsoft Office Suite: Excel, Word, PowerPoint, Qualtrics

Languages: Lithuanian (fluent), French (basic)

Interests: Avid reader of The Economist and Foreign Affairs, interested in photography and fine art